HARCOURT ASSESSMENT ANNOUNCES 2005 SUMMER FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM FOR TEACHERS

SAN ANTONIO – Leading test publisher Harcourt Assessment, Inc., today announced that 15 school teachers will spend four weeks this summer as Wayne H. Martin fellows at the company's San Antonio headquarters.

This paid fellowship program is a learning opportunity for teachers who are interested in gaining a new perspective on educational testing. Martin fellows will assist on a number of projects in the areas of reading, mathematics and science, and they will be involved in several phases of test development.

Teachers who complete the fellowship are eligible for continuing education credit through the University of Texas-San Antonio.

"The Wayne H. Martin fellowship program is a wonderful opportunity for Harcourt Assessment to work closely with teachers," said Don Barfield, vice president of educational products. "The Martin fellows will acquire a greater understanding of how Harcourt develops quality assessments for the schools while sharing with us their unique classroom experiences and insights."

Harcourt established the fellowship program in 2000 and later named it in memory of Wayne H. Martin, a distinguished educator and a driving force in standards-based assessment.

This year's Wayne H. Martin fellows are:
